WE NEED YOUR SUPPORT!

HKU ECO-EDUCATION FUND FOR STUDENTS

“Real Life experience empower students to become young leaders in nature conservation.”

Environmental degradation is driving species to extinction, but endangered species can be revived through dedicated and well-managed efforts in restoring their habitats. The Eco-Education Fund aims to enable students to take part in field expeditions that will help them understand how our daily actions impact the environment, motivate them to want to make a difference and, crucially, share what they learn about how to conserve and save our environment.

YOUR SUPPORT

The first programme under the Eco-Education Fund is to train 15 Ecology students to be Eco-leaders and participate in the East Africa Wildlife Eco-Tour led by Dr Billy Hau (HKU School of Biological Sciences) in July 2019. The Tour is co-presented by the HKU Foundation and Faculty of Science as part of its Oak Anniversary programmes.

On this Tour, the Student Eco-leaders will act as eco-guides and champions promoting environmental awareness to other Tour participants. Each Tour Participant is invited to make a contribution of HK$20,000 to support the Eco-Education Fund.

There is a rigorous selection process for choosing the 15 students to undertake the requisite six-month Eco-leader Training Programme prior to guiding the Tour. As a donor of the Fund, you may join the training if you wish.

Please give these future Eco-Leaders your support!
